City Schools To Pre-Register

The Elba City Schools Pre-school Registration will be held May 3 and 6, 1977. The Elba City School Kindergarten program is federally funded by Title I and XX and the following guidelines must be adhered to:

1. A child must be five (5) years of age on or before October 2 of the school year.
2. Every child admitted must meet requirements established by Title I and XX federal laws.
3. Only students living in the Elba City School District will be registered on May 3 and 6. Another date will be scheduled for students living outside the school district.

Every student must be tested and screened on the following days at the Elba Elementary School and must be accompanied by at least one (1) of their parents.

Girls register May 5, 1977 from 8:00 A.M. until 11:00 A.M.

Boys register May 6, 1977 from 8:00 A.M. until 11:00 A.M.

Every student must bring his birth certificate and immunization record (blue form) from Health Office or his/her private physician.

Girl Scouts Set Camp Dates

It is camp time at Hamming Hills again. This year, it is planned for June 13-17 at the Girl Scout Camp near Elba.

Activities will begin each day at 8:30 and end at 3:00. Older scouts will stay overnight on Thursday. Younger girls will go on nature hikes, learn arts and crafts, and outdoor skills. All the girls will take part in waterfront activities—swimming and canoeing.

Registration should be sent to South Central Alabama Girl Scout Office, 10 W. Patton, Montgomery, May 13 is deadline for registering.

Each town including Elba, Enterprise, New Brockton, Opp and Geneva will provide its own transportation by car pool.

Girls are to register in their grade for next year, and registration should be sent in as soon as possible, since space is limited.

A limited number of non-scouts can be accommodated, so these girls should contact the local scout leaders for registration information.

Mrs. J. W. Henderson of Enterprise is again serving as Camp Director, with Mrs. Rosemary Ray of Enterprise serving as Business Manager.

Housing Authority Accepts Bids

A contract to finance a short-term project note for the Elba Housing Authority has been awarded to Solomon Brothers and Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York. The money will be repaid in one year at the rate of 2.86% interest.

The note, in the amount of $253,000 will finance the re-possession of 15 homes originally sold by the government under the FHA 235 Plan. The homes will be transferred to the Housing Authority and rented at low rates.

They are located at these places throughout Coffee County: 7 in Kennedy Estates, 3 on Kinston Highway, 1 on Old River Road, 1 near New Haven, 1 near Danley's Cross-roads in Brooksville, 1 on New Brockton Highway and 1 near the Coffee-Pike County line. "We hope to be able to rent these houses by May 1st," said Mary Flowers, Secretary of the Elba Housing Authority.

Kinston's City Council Conducts Productive Meeting

The Kinston City Council met in regular session on Tuesday night, April 19, and decided to seek four (4) CETA slots which would be filled by hiring three (3) policemen and a radio dispatcher.

The request for CETA employees will be sent to the state, and city officials are optimistic of receiving some aid.

The meeting was called to order at 7:00 P.M. by Mayor Steve Hunko, who began the meeting by leading the council in prayer.

Following the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, several council members voiced their feelings on what had happened at the meeting, and commented on the report of the meeting which appeared in THE ELBA CLIPPER.

Councilwoman Sara Bowden told Mayor Hunko, "I'm tired of being accused of things I didn't do." Mrs. Bowden said she felt the paper (THE ELBA CLIPPER) had made a big thing out of nothing.

Councilman Dewey Adams told Hunko, "I'm mad! You think we're supposed to do everything you tell us. You are wrong! You will not tell me what to do." Continuing, Adams said, "You stepped on my toes at the last meeting and I'm tired of it." Mr. Adams then turned to the reporter present from THE ELBA CLIPPER and said, "This man hasn't asked any business here. We need him here about as much as we need an airplane sitting out there in the yard."

Mayor Hunko told the council it was he who requested THE ELBA CLIPPER begin attending the meetings, and said, "The meetings are open and anybody can come."

After the members aired their feelings on the previous meeting everyone seemed ready to get down to work, and a very productive meeting ensued.

Mrs. Bowden told the council of the application for CETA employees, and the above mentioned action was taken.

The council voted unanimously to vacate an alley for the required improvements, the council decided no major work was needed, and agreed it had no choice except to make the needed repairs.

It was reported that a State Fire Inspector had recently inspected the City Jail, and listed five (5) areas that needed improvement. After discussing the required improvements, the council decided no major work was needed, and agreed it had no choice except to make the needed repairs.

Councilman Harold Rhodes spoke up against the plan, saying, "I'm against it because it involves zoning. I don't like people telling me what I can and can't build on my property, and that is what will happen if this plan zones the property."

The council decided to ask Ms. Holman to meet with the council at their next meeting.

Mr. Guy Adams addressed the board and said, "The paper (THE ELBA CLIPPER) reported of complaints that the police car was seen at a beer joint. Well, I own part of the beer joint, and I just want everybody to know that it is out of Coffee County, but it is within Kinston's police jurisdiction. I'm not mad at anybody. I just want the people to know that we pay city tax and buy a city license, and the police protect my establishment just like any other store in town. It is nothing wrong with the police stopping at the store."

Mrs. Bowden made a motion to pay Chief of Police Randall Brooks $600 a month, and employ an auxiliary patrolman only 8 hours a week instead of 16. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Howard Smith, who is in charge of the city's water system, told the council the chlorinator pump on the Number one pump was not providing enough pressure to keep an even flow. Smith estimated it would cost $230 (parts) plus labor to fix the pump, or $230 to buy a new pump. All the members agreed it would be best to purchase a new pump.

Mr. Smith raised a question concerning priorities when installing water meters, and Mr. Adams said, "In my opinion the people with the most urgent need should be serviced first." The council agreed, and decided to let Mr. Smith decide the priorities.

Before adjourning, the council again discussed the possibility of having a recreation department, and all members agreed they would back the program if the money was available. The council voiced optimism that possibly by next year something can be done.

Chamber Of Commerce To Meet Tonight

The newly reactivated Elba Chamber of Commerce will meet again Thursday night (tonight) at the Elementary School. The meeting is again set for 7 P.M.

The last meeting was attended by over thirty-five local people interested in seeing the Chamber become active again. A beginning Board of Directors was named and they have been meeting, appointing committees and conducting other organizational chores.

The meeting Thursday night is not expected to last too long, with Board members working to keep all regular meetings to less than an hour. One of the main items of business will be the setting of a dues structure and getting it approved by the attending members.

Holley Condemns Actions Of Clemon

The recent publicity over the Birmingham Senator Clemon being stopped for driving at speeds of up to 100 miles an hour has resulted in a number of elected officials being asked for comments. Coffee County's Representative Jimmy Holley is no exception.

Holley said this week, "Clemon should have gotten a ticket and should have had to pay it." He continued with, "Disrespect for the law is becoming of an elected official and I honestly don't believe anyone is above the law."

Representative Holley said he was not in any position to pass judgement on the pulling of a gun on Clemon as he did not at the scene and didn't know the circumstances that led up to the incident.

His so called legislative immunity doesn't give him the right to endanger the other people of Alabama," Holley said.

Mr. Holley said that there was a bill in the Alabama House of Representatives to repeal the law giving legislators immunity. It was introduced by Representative Bishop Barron and Holley said he had spoken to Barron and would become a co-sponsor of the bill and would fight for its passage. He predicted the bill would pass the House.

The law is not a new law and has come under fire from time to time. The tradition of legislative immunity dates back to old English law, where the King forbade anyone to hinder the noblemen as they traveled to the palace to do business with the King.

PTO Meeting Set For Monday

The Elba PTO will meet at the Elba Middle School, Monday night, April 25, at 7 P.M. New officers will be elected.

Registrars To Meet In Every Beat

The Coffee County Board of Registrars is fulfilling requirements for a local bill passed last year concerning the voter re-identification by scheduling a meeting day for each voting beat. The schedule for these days are published in this issue of THE ELBA CLIPPER.

A number of voters fulfilled the requirements of re-identifying when they journeyed to the polls twice in November of last year. However, for those who have not done this, these days should prove a good time for the short process.

If a voter doesn't complete the simple requirements beforehand, voters may complete the questionnaire at any statewide election called in 1977 or 1978.

A voter may also re-identify by appearing before the Board of Registrars at a regular registering day, the Probate Judge or one of his Clerks, and fill out the necessary questionnaire. In this case the official acknowledges the signature and re-identification.

The final way is for those whose names have been removed from the voting list and have not re-identified. These voters may appear in person before the Board of Registrars, re-identify at that time and receive a certificate to deliver to the election officials at the polls.

However, officials encourage voters to complete this process as soon as possible.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Mr. Carter has declared that we must conserve energy and says he will encourage Congress to pass laws penalizing us if we don't cut back on the use of fuel. It is not anything new to hear that there is a shortage of oil, but as Americans, who always justify anything we want to do, will have a hard time swallowing penalties for our wasting of gasoline or fuel oil. We will resist until the last moment any change in our travel habits, even if it does cost more. Realizing that President Carter lost his bid for the $50 rebate, we will not be sure at all of the new laws until they get out of Congress, and then some agency will set the actual guidelines that Congress always leaves to the non-elected officials.

Mayor Bob Folsom spent several days in Montgomery at the annual meeting of the League of Municipalities. As he was leaving last week with his suit and tie and fancy hat, I had a few choice words with him as he wouldn't spend five days in Montgomery thinking that he was out of sight and out of mind. He took Mrs. Folsom with him, so we know he kept his nose clean. I just hope he learned some good stuff that will help the people of Elba.

The murder conviction of a Montgomery man convicted of killing a youth while drunk was upheld this week by the Court of Criminal Appeals. I know nothing about the particular case, but the fact that someone is getting tough with drunk drivers suits me fine. If they choose to kill themselves drinking, that is out of our control, but if they try to kill us and our children at the same time, it is time for us to stand up and be counted.

Senator Clemens of Birmingham made a big flap over getting stopped for speeding when he reportedly was driving at speeds of up to 100 miles an hour. Today he is standing alone in the Senate, with none of his peers daring to stand up and say Clemens is right! The uproar will probably die in a few weeks and he will continue to endanger your life if you drive to Birmingham from Montgomery.

The local fishermen are beginning to bring in the big strings of fish that are traditional for the spring fishing season. As the experts move out into the favorite spots and find the bedding bass and bream, they load their stringers with fish. The disturbing thing is that they will not tell me exactly where to find the best!

Coffee County has long been a peanut producing county. However, just as soon as Jimmy Carter was elected president, the interest in the pender surged as did the new releases from the Department of Agriculture. We now get a weekly report from the USDA on the peanut. Previously peanuts were included in the regular USDA report along with other farm crops. Nowadays there is as much in the peanut report alone, as in the entire combined report on corn, cotton, soybeans, etc. When Roosevelt was president, we actively studied the benefits of mineral waters because he was in a wheel chair; under Truman we were all critics of piano music (until one Harry told us where to go); under Nixon we clamored for saints in government office; football coaching got a bit of glory while Ford was in office and would have gotten more if he had been elected. However, it is peanuts that are the favorite, and if we select some political message from this, it would be that a coffee bean grower ain't got a chance, 'cause of the higher and higher cost of coffee.

Tornadoes have been hitting the nation as summer arrives, but have missed us so far. There are certain things a person can do if a tornado does hit, and I strongly suggest our readers learn these safety suggestions. . . . we can't afford to lose a single one of them!

THE CONSUMER CRUNCH

ANOTHER CASE FOR LESS REGULATION

Over the years, there seems to have developed an axiom in Washington that bigger government means better government. Particularly under the guise of "protecting" the consumer, this canard has helped to spawn 1,000 consumer-related programs in 33 federal departments and agencies. But there is increasing consumer recognition that many of the regulatory programs are working against him, rather than for him.

An excellent case in point is the current shortage of natural gas and emergency efforts to deregulate for the short run. The need for long-term deregulation of natural gas prices was clearly stated recently by R. Heath Larry, chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers and vice chairman, U.S. Steel Corp., in a letter to the Carter Administration. He said: "The only successful approach to increasing the supply of natural gas will be one which has as its foundation the complete deregulation of all new natural gas. The 'emergency' bills will only lead Congress to squander its time on stop-gap measures and further postpone coming to grips with an enduring solution."

The same might be said of a vast number of regulatory gambits.

LET'S PAINT - Mrs. May Bryan, Elba, left, participating in one of the many short courses offered by Enterprise State Junior College. Her sister, right, Mrs. Mary Warren, Enterprise, is the China Painting instructor. Mrs. Bryan takes China Painting at ESJC and Sewing and Physical Fitness at Elba. Mrs. Warren, a youthful seventeenth, believes keeping active makes life happy and fruitful.

Recipe For Long Happy Life

Want a recipe for a long happy life? "Learn to enjoy work -- keep active and travel -- it's the only way to live and keep from rusting out," according to Mrs. May Bryan, a "young" student in her seventies currently enrolled in three short courses sponsored by Enterprise State Junior College. Mrs. Bryan retired after teaching elementary school at Tuscaloosa and Elba and now finds herself being taught by former students. "I am pleased that I had a part in their education," she said. She retired in 1962 at her native town of Elba, after teaching 42 years.

"I've been enjoying ESJC short courses several years and am now enrolled in a sewing class and a physical education class in Elba and China Painting here at the junior college," she said.

Physical Fitness? "Yes," she replied, "it doesn't bother me, I've always been active and I expect I do more work and get more exercise than most of the younger women in the class."

Mrs. Bryan has a small garden and does a good bit of research in genealogy. She started researching her family history while enrolled in a genealogy short course at ESJC. She is also active in DAR, Azalea Garden Club, Three - In - One Study Club, AAUW, Retired Teachers Association, and Pea River Historical and Genealogical Society.

The China Painting class at ESJC has been in operation for more than two years. The 12 to 15 enrollees look forward to it as a weekly social event and enjoy fellowship and fun along with the excitement of painting china for loved ones. Mrs. Bryan has two sisters, Mrs. Mary Warren, the course instructor, and Mrs. Dixie Deal, both retired school teachers who join her each Friday for the china painting class.

"We like this kind of college," Mrs. Bryan said. "We can come and go as we please, stop for a Coke at anytime, exchange recipes and gossip, have no finals to cram for, and move at our own pace. It's really great."

Mrs. Bryan said she could not teach in today's classrooms. "They don't have discipline and you cannot teach without it," she said. "I'm afraid people have forgotten how to work and read all those medical articles. Then they develop all kinds of symptoms and ailments. I don't read or watch anything to do with medical ailments and so my only problem is to come on my feet."

She has two sons who have made their mark in the world. Bob is a doctor in Birmingham and Tom is in the wholesale grocery business in Jasper. Apparently Mrs. Bryan's philosophy has served her well. She is a delightful person, full of energy with a sparkle in her eyes that tells she loves life and is definitely not "rusting out."

Mrs. Warr Entertains Music Lovers Club

The Elba Music Lovers Club met with Mrs. E. M. Warr on Thursday, April 14th, at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Sara Strong and Mrs. Charlotte Ramsey were co-hostesses. Mrs. Mildred Stump was a guest of the Club.

Other members present were Mr. Brian Maxwell, Mrs. Roy Frances Vaughan, Mrs. Edwin Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lowery, Mrs. Caroline Branson, Mrs. Cecil Prescott, Mrs. K. W. Anderson and Mrs. Lois Holt.

Chocolate Creme Delight, coffee, nuts and cheese cookies were served to those present and were enjoyed immensely.

Mrs. Edwin Cooper gave the devotionals, read the minutes and called the roll. New officers were elected for the incoming year. Correspondence was read by Mrs. Roy Frances Vaughan.

The club voted to cooperate with the Three Seasons Study Club in the walkathon which they will sponsor to raise money for the March of Dimes. Mrs. Brian Maxwell volunteered to walk, and each member of the Music Lovers Club will contribute $1.00 for this project.

Mrs. Caroline Branson, program chairman, presented Mr. Brian Maxwell who gave a program on the Contemporary Period and Stravinsky. Twentieth-century music is a little more difficult to play. It requires more rehearsal time to get ready for a performance. It is unfamiliar to the players and listeners alike and therefore has been slow to be accepted. People are conditioned to the old styles of single melodies with percussive rhythm and harmony, and therefore are sometimes bewildered by the apparent irregularities in modern music.

Igor Stravinsky was born in 1882 and died in 1971. He left Russia before WWI and settled in France and stayed until 1939. He traveled over the world for while and settled in California after WWII. In every country he took on a different style of writing.

Mr. Maxwell pointed out that Stravinsky's early works were in traditional form. "The Firebird" (1910) a successful ballet shows impressive influences. His efforts paved the way for another 20th-century style, neoclassicism.

Later in his life he took on a style of composition known as Tone-row forms. This form is a profound innovation in music and was developed by Schoenberg. This is a system of composition with twelve tones related only to one another in the chromatic scale. Stravinsky rejected the Tone-row system in almost every conventional medium and invented new ones.

THE WONDERFUL KANGAROO

"The Wonderful Kangaroo", a television special sponsored by Textron Inc., features Kangaroos as they bound across the endless plains of Australia. But "down under" these delightful creatures are causing some zany problems and hopping up in crazy places. Roos on the loose!

It seems that Kangaroos have no traffic sense at all and are a menace on the roads. Some say that a Roo's rule of the road is: Look both ways, then cross regardless.

Have you ever heard of "roo-guards"? Well, if you were from the Australian countryside, where Kangaroos are often attracted to the freshly cut grass along the roadside, you would have these heavy bumpers on your car for protection from the devastating impact. Many wild animals learn to avoid the roads, but in a country where there are twice as many Roos as people, the Australian government has posted warnings on roads throughout the countryside—Beware of Kangaroos!

A car insurance company in Queensland had so many claims for Roo damage from one area that they sent an inspector to investigate. He got home eventually, but in the meantime his own auto was wrecked by hitting a Kangaroo.

"LOVE" Love is something you can't love. Love can lift you way up on high. Love is the feelings shared between two people. Love is the beauty in your heart that's unexpressed. Love is a smile that brightens everyone's day. Love can take you miles and miles away. Love is true friendship shared by two people. Love is three beautiful words saying, "I love you!"

"IT'S JUST A DREAM" With open arms I welcome you. To warm, calm seas And a sky that's blue.

"Have you ever watched a raindrop hit a puddle and see it grow larger and larger until it vanishes. Then you ever stop to think that this could be like a dream, where it starts off with only a few nice thoughts and grows until you realize that things couldn't ever be that great. Then it all fades away."

Happy Birthday Song-Randy Wilson

There are tears for good, and some for bad. There are tears for happy, and lots of tears for sad. But the most meaningful tears, be them many or few, are the tears that mean love, that are cried by you. Have you ever wanted to cry to help ease the pain? And when you started crying, it poured and poured like rain. It's all trapped inside you, where it's hurting so very bad. Where it's building and growing from the feelings that are so sad. It's like a balloon that is filled with air when it expands until it pops. And you, by yourself, can't solve the problem till your breaking heart stops. It grows bigger and bigger, day by day, till you can hardly take much more. And finally it all ends with before.

Send beggarweed packing.

With new Amiben/Premerge 3 tank mix for peanuts.

This season send Florida beggarweed packing. Packing right out of your peanut fields. With a brand new tank mix that really does the job.

It's Amiben/Premerge 3. Now registered for use in the state of Alabama, on Alabama-grown peanut crops. Tests show it's the first really effective solution to the spreading beggarweed problem.

And what a solution. Amiben controls germinating weeds and grasses while Premerge 3, a contact herbicide, quickly burns seedling weeds that have already germinated and are just emerging. It's a "one-two" punch that knocks down beggarweeds. And keeps them down.

In one grower trial, Amiben/Premerge 3 gave 98% control compared to 60% with another tank mix.

Amiben/Premerge 3 is easy to use. Apply at "cracking time" when your oldest peanut plants reach the two-leaf stage. Or when the first weeds become visible. Check label for correct rates and complete mixing instructions.

This season, don't let Florida beggarweed get the best of your peanuts. Get the best of them with new Amiben/Premerge 3 tank mix. See your dealer and order your supply today. Order early and be sure to get enough to protect your entire allotment.

Amiben is a trademark of Amchem Products, Inc., for chloranthen weedkillers. *Pernerge 3 is a trademark of Dow Chemical Co.

Amiben helps nail beggarweed.

SOYBEANS

There is much greater interest in soybeans now than a few months back. Naturally as prices go up, there is increased farmer interest. Dr. John Henderson, our soybean specialist at Auburn, told me recently that he expected beans to sell on the open market around $6.50 to $7.00 per bushel this fall. Of course, this is speculation on his part. No one knows what beans will bring. Weather is extremely important in soybean production. So prices are very unpredictable.

Certain varieties are recommended for Coffee County and south Alabama depending on the planting date. For beans to be planted between May 15 and June 1, we recommend Lee 74, McVair 600, Tracy and Davis. Varieties recommended for planting June 1 to June 15 are Bragg, Ransom and McNair 800. Late maturing varieties, those planted from June 15 to July 1, are Coker 338, Hutson and Cobb.

on Florida beggarweed, pusley and pigweed. Atrazine is good on bristly starbur, cocklebur and coffee-weeds. Atrazine can be applied over the top of the corn plants.

Several other materials can also be applied to corn after it comes up. Bavel is an excellent material. It can be applied to corn any time from the corn seedling stage until the corn is 36 inches high. After this, it is best to use a drop nozzle. Bavel is especially excellent on coffee-weed and cocklebur. Lorox or Evik are both post-directed sprays. The corn should be at least 12-15 inches high when these materials are used and should be applied at the base of the corn stalk with a drop nozzle. Both of these materials are excellent on grasses, coffee-weeds, beggarweed, cocklebur, pusley and pigweed.

We have complete information on these materials and will be glad to help you in any way.

NEW MATERIAL
Dallas Hartzog, our peanut specialist, told me this week that Amiben plus Premerge 3 is very good to use at cracking time on peanuts. Amiben is very good on the Florida beggarweed. Some of the researchers say that experiments show this combination put on at cracking time is more effective in beggarweed control than the Dynap plus Lasso combination.

Several different combinations can be used after peanuts are up and growing. A couple of applications of Dinitro are often used to help control beggarweeds and other weeds and grasses. The key to good weed control is getting the materials on while the weeds are still small. During rainy weather, it is often hard to do. We have a lot of information on weed and grass control in peanuts. If you have a special weed problem and would like to know the best material to use for that particular weed, get in touch with us and we will help you.

peanut seed, corn seed and soybean seed. We would not think about using an inferior grade or amount of fertilizer. We would not use a poor fungicide. However, many beef cattle producers and hog producers, too, are willing to use just an average or below average bull. This is costing us money, and it is something we need to turn around in the years ahead.

OLD CONTAINERS
Have you destroyed those old herbicide containers? Are they still lying around inside the shed or outside in the field? Young children are often attracted to the materials because many of them have bright, attractive colors. They will taste and drink these materials not knowing that they are dangerous.

For example, Parquat which is used in controlling grasses and weeds, has no antidote. Once it has been swallowed, it is down hill all the way. Fortunately, antidotes are available for many of the materials being used by farmers.

You can load these containers up and take them to the landfill or in some way open them up and bury them on your place to cut down on the possibility of poisoning someone. It doesn't happen often, but it does happen and it is always a tragic thing to endanger the lives of unsuspecting children.

Spring Advent Brings Danger Of Tetanus

With the advent of the spring season of 1977 most of us are beginning to get out of doors again. There are gardens and lawns that need work and outdoor chores of all sorts that have accumulated during the winter.

With the return of outdoor activities comes once again the hazard of minor accidents, cuts and scratches. Most often these aren't serious and will heal quickly if properly cleaned and protected.

The American Medical Association cautions that sometimes these scratches can be more serious. Sometimes they are the channel through which you could get tetanus, commonly called lockjaw.

Tetanus-producing spores lie dormant in the soil of your garden. These spores can infect you through the tiniest wound—a pin scratch, a bee sting or a small cut.

Tetanus spores may remain in your body for long periods without producing the disease.

COCOA
While rising coffee prices have been stealing all the headlines lately, another commodity has been selling at record-high levels, too.

Reports show that world cocoa prices have more than tripled in the last 13 months. This means shoppers will be paying higher prices than ever for chocolate products.

In fact, many of the big chocolate manufacturers have already raised the price of candy bars from 15 to 20 cents. And unless cocoa prices stabilize, the price could go even higher.

HOUSEPLANTS
Spring is a great time to report your houseplants after their long winter indoors. It gives them fresh soil to grow in and more room to spread out during the spring-summer growing spurts.

You probably think that all potted soils are alike—but this isn't always true. In a recent study with 20 commercial potting soils, several samples had varying nutrient levels. In fact, one out of five potting soils tested could injure or even kill plants.

Four of the 20 samples had excessive soluble salts. Three of the samples tested had too much nitrogen and 11 had low phosphorus levels. Nine had a pH of less than 5.5—which is too acid for best plant growth. How can you be sure you're getting a good potting soil? Buy from a reputable garden center or nursery. And if possible, get the same soil that the garden center or nursery uses for its plants.

CLEANING FLUORESCENT LIGHT TUBES
Accumulation of dust on fluorescent light tubes cuts down on the amount of light given off. Therefore, keep the tubes clean by sponging the surfaces with a cloth wrung out of detergent or soap suds. Dry with another clean cloth. Be sure that the lights are turned off and cooled before washing.

FOR BRIDES
The bride-to-be sometimes has a difficult task selecting a dinnerware pattern. She often must decide on whether or not she will really need the dinnerware. How often it will be used and how it will look in the home are other considerations to be made. The kind of dinnerware that she'll need also depends on whether she prefers casual or formal meals or a buffet or on-the-lap-type of service.

The 45-piece dinnerware set may be a tradition, but it would be a good idea to leave off the pieces that probably won't be used. If received as gifts, they can be traded in for other pieces that can be of more use. Several dinnerware manufacturers now offer a three-piece place setting for today's more casual table settings.

Here are some dinnerware characteristics. Stoneware is very popular now because of its versatility. It's scratch-resistant, heavy and durable. Ironstone is a type of English earthenware that has been fired at higher temperatures than regular earthenware. Ironstone is also heavy and durable.

Pottery is made of coarsely textured clays and requires low firing temperatures. Pottery sometimes breaks and chips easily and tends to crack when exposed to heat.

China or porcelain is made of fine clays and finely ground rock. It's fired at high temperatures and has a glass-hard finish, creating a cream or off-white color. It's thin, yet durable and nonporous.

Bone china is a hard porcelain that contains bone ash for a whiter color.

Glass-ceramic is made of materials that are melted and formed as glass. This dinnerware is heat-resistant and overproof.

Melamine is nonporous plastic. Although break and chip resistant, it's easily scratched and stained.

The particular type of materials used in construction, the amount needed, the patterns or color and even the type of meals served may account for the dinnerware chosen. Also, because dinnerware is such an investment, the type of dinnerware should suit your preferences and tastes.

DIXIE YOUTH LEAGUE NEEDS COACHES

I talked with City Baseball Director Jimmy Haddon this week, and he informed me that he only had one coach for the Dixie Youth League, and only two for Babe Ruth.

Over 30 boys have signed up for Dixie Youth baseball, and they will be divided into 5 teams. That means that 4 coaches are needed for Dixie Youth "Now!"

It seems to me that if 90 boys want to play ball, at least 5 fathers could volunteer to help teach these youngsters how to play. Being a coach would require giving up two nights a week, and possibly an hour or two for practice on Saturday. That's not too much to ask.

I urge all fathers to sit down and think about coaching a team. Maybe two or three coaches could get together so they won't have to give up so much time.

If you decide you can coach that will be great! If not, don't argue or fuss about how poorly coached your son's team is. It will be your fault!

MEN'S SOFTBALL IS FULL OF ACTION

The Men's Softball League got off to a blazing start Monday night with everybody hitting the ball.

Wise's Wayne Suttley hit a home-run his first two times up, and just missed hitting a third out. Wayne is off to a fast start and could hit a "whole bunch" out before the season is over.

Other players who hit a long ball Monday night were Doug Lee, Buddy King, Kenneth Suttley, David Smith and Mickey Marler. Look for these guys to start knocking 'em out before long.

Several of the teams were sporting new suits on opening night. Cook Chevrolet was wearing burgundy and black outfits; the Independents were decked out in red and blue, and Nasco was "glowing" in bright orange. Dorsey has some new suits on the way, so Elba might have the most colorful league around!

TIGERS TURN THE TABLE ON GREENVILLE

The Elba Tigers' baseball team lost to Andalusia by 33 runs. Andalusia lost to Greenville by 8 runs. So, Greenville is supposedly 41 runs better than Elba! Right? Wrong!

Cook John Frank Hudson's troops whipped up on Greenville 17-4 Monday to claim their first win of the year. The Tigers caught a lot of ribbing after their loss to Andalusia, but the players refused to quit, and have battled back to field a competitive team.

My hat's off to the Tigers for their big win over Greenville!

IN CLOSING

I consider myself a pretty good pitcher in softball, and have been known to brag a little. However, after Monday night, I'll just pitch and keep my mouth shut!

I walked two batters, and allowed four hits in only two innings of pitching. Maybe I should take pitching lessons from my girlfriends!

Right, Kathy?

Tigers Claim 1st Win, Rock Greenville 17-4

The Elba Tigers claimed their first win of the season Monday by blasting the Greenville Tigers 17-4 in Elba.

Greenville jumped into a 2-0 lead in the first inning on a two-run homer by Eric Seary, but the visitors' lead was short-lived. The score remained at 2-0 going into the bottom of the second, but Elba combined 8 hits and 5 walks to score 14 runs in their half of the inning, and the Tigers turned the game into a laughing matter.

The Greenville pitcher loaded the bases on walks to start the second inning, and to then walked in a run to make the score 2-1. Carl Ham followed with a two-run single to right field to push Elba ahead 3-2.

The Tigers' batters went wild as they battered three Greenville pitchers enroute to the big 14-run outburst.

Leading the Tigers at the plate were Marty Marler, 2-3, and a home run, Carl Ham 2-2, and David Ware, 2-3.

David Ware was the winning pitcher for the Tigers, allowing four runs on 7 hits. Ware struck out five Greenville batters.

Twin City Speedway Opens Season With A Thriller

(BY GREG BRUNSON, CLIPPER RACING REPORTER)

The first night of racing for the regular season at Twin City Speedway proved to be quite exciting as 10 rookies and 18 Late-Model Sportsman cars rolled out for the evening.

The first race of the evening was the "Helmet Dash" which pitted Scott Carleson, the fastest qualifier, against the Number 2 qualifier, Jerome Harbert. Carleson took the early lead and stretched it for all 5 laps and an easy victory.

The next event on slate was the Late-Model Sportsman slow heat race. Greg Marchman led this race for the first two laps only to see Bill Bryant pass him on the third. Bryant led for the last 8 laps and the victory. This race was marred by an accident as Loden Smith and Ricky Castelleo got together in the second turn.

The third race was the slowest of the night as it was the first time in this 6-lap event. The fourth race of the night was the Late-Model Sportsman fast heat race which had 8 entries. Lamar Hall and Carl Grimes followed Stucky across the finish line in this 6-lap event.

CANCER ANSWER LINE

STOMACH CANCER

Survival from stomach cancer, as from cancer of most body sites, is related to the stage of the disease at the time the treatment is begun. Today, the only successful treatment for cancer of the stomach is prompt, surgical removal of the malignant tumor.

Of patients whose tumors are localized (have not spread) at the time of surgery, 40 per cent are alive and well five years following treatment. Unfortunately, only 10 per cent of all stomach cancer cases are diagnosed before the disease has spread.

Scientists are particularly interested, therefore, in developing a means for early detection of stomach cancer. You can help by being alert to certain symptoms and getting regular check-ups from your doctor.

The first symptoms of stomach cancer are much like those of less serious digestive disorders. Slight digestive discomfort, aggravated by eating, and a distaste for food ordinarily well tolerated are reported by patients with a variety of diseases, including stomach cancer.

When stomach pain and digestive discomfort continue more than two weeks a doctor should always be consulted. Other possible symptoms of stomach cancer such as blood in the stools or vomiting, rapid weight loss, and pain are signs of a dramatic nature that they are not likely to be ignored.

These same symptoms also can indicate the presence of an ulcer. While there has been speculation over whether stomach cancer, most doctors feel that the danger of a stomach ulcer rests not so much in the possibility that an ulcer may lead to a malignancy as in the fact that it may mask stomach cancer and thus delay proper treatment. A thorough physical examination for stomach cancer includes laboratory tests such as a red and white blood cell count and analysis of the acidity of the stomach contents. However, the most important of all diagnostic methods is X-ray examination.

It is estimated that about 14,300 Americans now die of stomach cancer each year. It occurs more frequently in men than in women and in the U.S., the risk of developing stomach cancer seems to be greater for nonwhite than white persons. It also seems to occur more frequently among low income persons.

Although it has been suggested that excessive consumption of alcoholic beverages, habitual drinking of very hot or cold liquids, and use of chewing tobacco might cause stomach cancer, there is no scientific proof that any of these factors is involved.

There also has been much speculation as to the role diet plays in the development of stomach cancer. Many experts, and a distaste for food ordinarily well tolerated are reported by patients with a variety of diseases, including stomach cancer.

Realtors Set Property Week, Say Conserve Energy

Local realtors and realtor-associates have launched a grass roots energy conservation campaign in conjunction with Property Week, which is being observed in Alabama from April 17-23.

According to the Alabama Real Estate Association, the conservation of energy is a major concern of the real estate industry. The association has chosen to observe Property Week as a time to encourage conservation of energy.

We are cooperating with the National Association of Realtors in this extremely important program," said Louise Kishi, president of the association. "Private Property Week is when we join with the nation's millions of homeowners each year to mark the historic right we have in the United States to own property freely and without government interference."

The grass roots campaign is a new element of the national association's on-going program to assist homeowners in saving their money by saving their energy and conserving natural resources. The national association has been encouraging conservation of energy for years. Homes, taken all together, use a massive amount of energy for heating, cooling, lighting and appliances. We want to do what we can to encourage more home energy conservation.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Meddlesome Parents
After six stormy years of matrimony, Edna and George came to the parting of the ways. Edna, blaming George's parents for the boy's bad behavior, filed a lawsuit against them for damages.

"Ever since our wedding," she told the court, "they have been meddling in our affairs. They had no right to do that. Once we were married, it was up to them to leave us alone."

But the court dismissed Edna's claim, saying parents have special privileges in dealing with their children.

This portion of the tour will continue to tell the story of cotton and its importance to the nation to people in major metropolitan centers of the U.S. from Washington, D.C. to San Francisco.

Travel is nothing new to Ellen. She studied abroad at Vanderbilt, in France, University, Aix-en-Provence, France, and backpacked across much of Europe on weekends.

Ellen says she enjoys the capital cities of the various countries she visited as a travel historian and cultural value, but she enjoyed most of all getting outside of the city and seeing the "real" people and country.

A native of Memphis, Tennessee, Ellen is the first Maid of Cotton to be selected from the riverbush city since home of the selection — since 1947. Her grandfather owned his own cotton company for 35 years and still raises cotton. Her mother was a Maid of Cotton finalist in 1950.

Another case involved a father's right to exclude from the family home an unwanted boy friend of his daughter. The court said: "A father is under no obligation whatsoever to allow one of whom he does not approve as a prospective husband to enter his home."

On the other hand, the law condones excess at all stages of the parent-child relationship. One father was arrested on a charge of assault and battery after he administered a brutal beating to his young daughter. Although he claimed "parental privilege," the court found him guilty. The judge commented: "Where the punishment is so cruel as to show that the parent was not acting for the benefit of the child but to satisfy his own evil passion, he is no longer to be considered as a judge administering the law of the household but as a malefactor guilty of an unlawful assault on a helpless person entrusted to his care."

County Commission Rescends Previous Pay Scale Resolution

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, April 25, at the Courthouse Annex in Enterprise, and voted unanimously to rescind a resolution adopted at an earlier meeting that placed Highway Department employees on an hourly pay scale.

County Engineer, Leslie Mullins, requested the action because of problems involved in withholding deductions in the employees' retirement insurance.

The meeting began at 10:00 A.M. with all commissioners present except Mr. Gilmer Grant. Judge Sawyer opened the session by informing the board that an inspector had recently visited the landfill in New Brockton, and that the county had received a good report on the condition of the project.

A letter was read from the Department of Agriculture that acknowledged receiving the county's application for assistance on the Wilkerson Creek Watershed project. The letter reported that a field examination and a public hearing would be held in the near future.

A second letter from the Southeast Alabama Regional Planning and Development Commission was read that informed the board that several million dollars in additional CETA funds will soon be available in Alabama. Mr. Mullins reported he had applied for funds to hire 21 CETA employees for his department. Mullins added that he planned for the funds to be used for a temporary summer employment.

Mr. Ron Smith addressed the board and asked for permission to use two empty offices in Elba that are adjoining the Pensions and Security Office. Smith, the County Pensions and Security Director, said the space is needed for office space for case workers.

The commission instructed Smith to check the costs in removing the offices, and decided to look into the matter at the next meeting. Mr. Smith requested permission to install curtains at the Food Stamp Office, and expressed a desire to erect a sign in front of the Food Stamp Office so it can be easily identified. The commission had no objection to the installation of curtains, but failed to act on the request for the sign.

Judge Sawyer told the commission that voting houses were needed in Beets 2, 15, 22, and 12, and all the commissioners voted to enter into a contract to do the work.

Witnesses at the scene said the contract to pave the Pond Creek Road and Irvin Powell Road will be let out this Friday, April 28. A completion date of October 1 was given.

Mr. Fred Donaldson, County Tax Assessor, told the commission his office was "catching up" on appraisals. Donaldson also reported the Equalization Board would be holding hearings next week.

Engineer Leslie Mullins was the board's final visitor of the day, and Mullins reported: "The contract to pave the Pond Creek Road and Irvin Powell Road will be let out this Friday, April 28. A completion date of October 1 was given."

It would cost $16,000 to install new pavement markings (signs, etc.) in county. Costs would be shared by state (70%) and county (30%). The commission voted to enter into a contract to do the work.

Witnesses at the scene said the contract to pave the Pond Creek Road and Irvin Powell Road will be let out this Friday, April 28. A completion date of October 1 was given.

Mr. Mullins said the county for two pipes to help drain water out of Kennedy Estates. The commission agreed to help the city.

The Posa River Historical Society wants to move Shell Grove Mill Bridge to their property when a new bridge is built.

In a days final action the commission voted to buy a truck from Dorsey Trailers at a cost of $2000.

3 Cars Totaled In Monday Wreck

A four-vehicle accident Monday afternoon at the corner of Davis and Claxton totaled three vehicles and sent several people to the hospital for treatment and one for hospitalization.

Ellie Brunson of Elba was hospitalized at the local hospital after his 1968 Chevrolet slammed into a 1972 Buick which in turn hit a 1973 Mark IV Lincoln, knocking it into a log truck. The three cars were totaled and the log truck owned by Toy Dyess of Elba suffered one dollar damage, according to police reports.

Witnesses at the scene said Brunson appeared to have his head down on the steering wheel when his car hit the stopped cars. The police report indicated that Brunson was traveling at an estimated 45 miles an hour.

Those taken to the hospital included Brunson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bowden, Saline, California, Mrs. Nell Bowden, Bill Adcock, Boyce, Texas. Mr. Dyess, driver of the log truck, was uninjured.

Council Meeting Explodes Again On Police Investigation

The Elba City Council met Tuesday night in a meeting postponed from one week earlier due to Mayor Folsom's trip to the League of Municipalities meeting in Montgomery. All members were present.

A total of eleven citizens were present to make various appeals to the council. Also present were City Clerk Jack Prescott, Police Chief M. W. Johnston and Recreation Director L. F. (Bowie) Dunaway.

The meeting started smoothly with the council brushing through some routine matters such as reading minutes, signing supports for graves, hearing appeals for improving the recreation facilities and tabling several items until next week.

A lengthy debate over establishing a recreation board lasted fifty minutes and ended with the board being appointed after being voted down once. At the end of the meeting a heated exchange was the result of Councilman Jimmy Wise asking why an investigation of damage at the cemetery was stopped.

The investigation had started at Wise's request when Folsom was out of town and stopped after he returned. Mayor Folsom denied stopping the investigation, but Wise had a copy of the two officers' report and they wrote that Mayor Folsom had told them to only check it as the patrol went by the area. Chief Johnston stated that Mayor Folsom had stopped the investigation, but after the being voted down once, Johnston said that if Folsom had not stopped the work, his men would not have been sent to Birmingham and he would not have been asked not to suggest this.

Councilman Cleo Hawkins said "Yes, Bob, you have said to a number of people that this was a pretty sorry condition," Folsom denied this, and said if he wanted to say that he would say it to their faces. Wise then said, "In other words, you are saying that the people who said this are lying." Folsom said he was not calling anyone a liar, but "it is

The Powells will operate the pool on a percentage basis, with the City getting 25% of income, up from 20% last year.

After some tie-vote and breaking by Mayor Folsom, the council voted to transfer income from the sale of cemetery lots to the perpetual care trust fund after $1,000 had been collected for maintenance. Approving this were Councilmen John W. Sharpless and D. M. English and were Councilmen Mike Russell, Jimmy Wise and Cleo Hawkins. The three opposed the action wanted to give all of the income for lot sales to the trust fund. In 1976 this figure was about $1300.

Also the council approved a new ping-pong table at the Mulberry Recreation Center; tabled action on a sewer on Flournoy Drive; tabled action on controlled parking downtown; approved a sewer tap for Wade Mallory; told Mrs. Edna Sison the ditch beside the school would be cleaned with the new machine; told Burie Nelson to return with all of the income for lot sales to the trust fund. In 1976 this figure was about $1300.
